

Peace and Justice Interns in action...

Zoe Black worked to establish a oral health project on the preschool in Goyena

Olivia Kaplan supported sugar cane workers struggling with a public health crisis and helped initiate a process that has pushed the company and the World Bank to respond.

Sam Purdy taught first grade and organized a chess club in Goyena.

Ashley Brosius (middle) worked in environmental education with children and teens in a community facing numerous environmental challenges.

